Gainful Employment

While programs at Edgecombe Community College are designed to lead to either employment or transfer to a four-year post-secondary institution, the Department of Education has mandated that institutions disclose specific information about programs that meet the federal government's Gainful Employment Program definition. These programs are either certificate or diploma programs that are also Title IV eligible educational programs. To comply with the federal mandate, Edgecombe Community College has created this website for prospective and current students to access program information, including links to occupational information, estimated cost of program, normal time for program completion, median debt at program completion, and job placement rate for completers, if available. For programs with fewer than 10 students, the institution is exempt from disclosing median debt amounts and on-time completion rates. The college does not provide on campus living facilities, so room and board costs are not applicable.
